

Bulldog

We usually play this outside with boundaries. The children line up on one end of the field. One person is IT. IT yells Bulldog and every one must run across the field to the other side while IT attempts to tag as many people as possible. When tagged that person joins in the middle with IT and attempts to tag as many people as possible. If someone runs out of bounds they are automatically in the middle with IT. The last person remaining is IT.
